Announcements

The Arctic Institute of North America is hosting our annual Arctic Roundtable event on the Status of Permafrost in Alaska. Our 3 panelists are world-renowned permafrost/ecosystem scientists Vladimir Romanovsky, Torre Jorgenson, and Terry Chapin, who will discuss the status of permafrost and its implications for ecosystems and people in Alaska. The event will be held at the Westmark Hotel East Gold Room on Monday November 14th at 7pm. Details are on the attached flier. Please join us for an introduction by the panelists, followed by audience questions and discussion.
