Announcements

Awards and Promotions: Mark Lindberg recently shared the 2019 US Fish and Wildlife Service Recovery Champion Award with his former MS student Kate Martin for Region 7 of the USFWS. This award honors those whose work is advancing the recovery of endangered and threatened species of plants and animals. In related news, Mark's former PhD student Josh Schmidt received the Directors Award for Natural Resources from the National Park Service which honors those who demonstrate excellence in using scientific information to make informed management decisions. Another former PhD student, Johann Walker, was recently promoted to Director of Operations for Ducks Unlimited Great Plains Region because he has passion for and a deep commitment to wetlands and grasslands in the United States Great Plains.
